

TRYON PAINTERS & SCULPTORS

Tryon Painters and Sculptors programs include:

Art, Wine and Cheese

Art demonstrations designed to bring an eclectic and varied series of visiting artists and their art to Tryon from all over the country are presented in the spring and fall in a casual setting featuring wine, cheese, and door prizes.

Art Classes

Ongoing, unstructured Figure Drawing and Painting and Sculpting Studios are held weekly as well as a Mixed Media Painting Class

Workshops

Workshops are held every year in spring, summer and fall.

Juried Exhibits

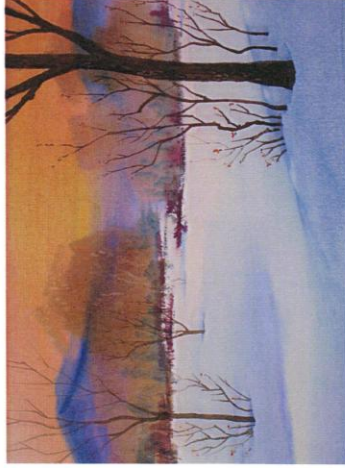

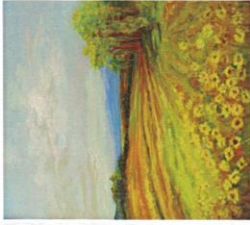

Yearly and biennial exhibits include:

- Sculpturama
- Biennial Western North Carolina Juried Art Exhibit

There are additional juried shows throughout the year.

Exhibits and Art Shows

Regularly scheduled shows of painting and sculpture by visiting artists are presented in Gallery One at the Tryon Fine Arts Center as well as members' exhibits in the Mahler Family Boardroom Gallery.

Open Studio Spaces

Studio space is available to members free of charge during operating hours at TFAC Monday through Friday from 10:00 am to 4:30 pm.

Newsletter and Website

Monthly newsletters are sent out to members which include upcoming events and items of interest. The TPS website is a great source of information with a members' page with links to artists' websites.

TRYON PAINTERS & SCULPTORS

Tryon Painters and Sculptors is a non-profit community arts collective that encourages self-expression through the visual arts. TPS members believe that art is an essential part of any thriving community and that a vital arts program can help lift the spirit and raise the collective consciousness of the citizenry it serves. TPS collaborates with artists and artistic organizations in an effort to facilitate mutual support, recognition and the exchange of ideas. The membership works to encourage a thriving community of artists and appreciation of the arts within Polk and surrounding counties. Since its inception in 1968, TPS has offered classes, programs, workshops, and exhibits in an effort to unleash the artistic potential of every member, thus enriching the lives of the whole community.
